Sigmund Picks Bliss As Borough Attorney; 2 Democrats Dissent

Is it Borough Hall or Tammany Hall?

If you listen to her critics, Mayor-elect Barbara Sigmund's move to appoint Walter Bliss, the current Mercer County Democratic chairman, to the position of Borough attorney, is an act of political partisanship that has been virtually nonexistent at this level of government in recent years.

If you listen to Mrs. Sigmund, the appointment is political, yes, but only in the sense that she sought an attorney with "experience in policy making and the passage of legislation necessary to achieve the goals" that were promised during the election campaign.

Either way, it will not be business as usual at Borough Hall, which had been represented by a member of the Nassau Street law firm of Mason, Griffin, and Pierson for the last 22 years.

"We're disappointed—we had hoped to carry on," said the outgoing attorney, Edwin Schmierer. "No. 1, we hate to lose the business. No. 2, the Borough has blossomed into a long-standing client. A number of years ago our firm made a decision to stay on Nassau Street while some other firms were moving to new offices out of town and on Route 1. One reason we wanted to stay was our affiliation with the Borough."

At the request of Mrs. Sigmund, Mr. Schmierer and four other candidates, including Mr. Bliss, were interviewed by her and the six representatives who will serve on Council in the new year. Mr. Bliss's name was put to a straw poll. John Huntoon and Irv Urken, who ran with Mrs. Sigmund in the November election, joined Peter Bearse in supporting Mr. Bliss. Richard Macgill, Champagne punch at Morven, swearing-in ceremonies at Borough Hall and at the Township meeting room at the Valley Road building, then a nonpartisan reception at the Hook and Ladder Firehouse on Harrison Street, sponsored by the Republicans and Democrats of Borough and Township.

If you are thinking of over-doing it New Year's Eve and then sleeping late Sunday morning, think again: the elected officials and assorted politicians will be putting on their annual New Year's Day show and you might not want to miss it.

The big changes are in the Borough, where Mayor-Elect Barbara Sigmund will host the champagne punch reception at Morven, next to Borough Hall, beginning at 11 a.m. At noon the Borough will swear in Mrs. Sigmund as mayor, along with two new Council members: Irv Urken and John Huntoon.

Richard Woodbridge, who lost to Mrs. Sigmund in the mayoral election, and Barbara Hill voted against him. Mrs. Sigmund's tie breaker vote gave the job to Mr. Bliss.

Mrs. Sigmund praised Mr. Schmierer, and noted that all the applicants were capable of handling "the day-to-day business of the Borough." She noted that all the candidates, all Democrats, had contributed "to one or another of my political campaigns." The deciding issue, she said, was the superior response of Mr. Bliss to questions concerning tax policy and political land use law. "What is showed to me was that Walter knows all this legisla-

Collins, Sewers, Rain, Littlebrook School Topped List of Memorable Stories in 1983

It's an odd assortment — the things that made 1983 memorable for Princeton: Collins' plans for Palmer Square, sewer overflows, the closing of Littlebrook School, the snowstorm of February 12, the heat and the rain.

Yes, the town is changing. Been said before, probably will be again. Uneasy about the kinds of change that could occur, the Planning Board looked around and decided that some buildings were ugly (don't want any more of THOSE) and some were — well, all right (could have more of THESE). Examples, said the Board, were the Witherspoon Street addition to what used to be called the First National Bank (not!) and the half-timbered structure right across the street (yes! — worth saving.)

The Heart of Princeton got a new zip code — 08542 — and Borough residents were resigned, at the end of the year, to pulling beer cans out of regular garbage so a new recycling collector could pick them up.

New restaurant coming, it was announced: a 160-seat Stouffer Cheese Cellar in One Palmer Square ... a splendid new Hyatt Regency opened its doors with a flourish in September ... in June, a new main post office was promised "within the next year" off Alexander Road ... Home Link began stringing its cable TV ... and, horrendous thought! maybe there will be no more Mary Watts' store, if plans to erect an office building there materialize.

There's been a change in the kind of music coming from the Italian-American Sportsmen's Club, and grumpy neighbors began protesting three bands each playing two hour gigs. The Club protested, too: if the ordinance were stiffened, the Club's finances would be hurt and besides, are those police decibel counters reliable?

Some things, of course, never change:

The library begged for money, Township Mayor Pike said, well, it's either the library or fixing potholes and I'm not sure the public understands that ... the Loop Bus was saved, yet again, on New Year's Day.

Municipalities still strained against state-imposed caps on their budgets, but a loosening of the bind allowed a 7.5 percent increase instead of the former 5 percent.

Still hunting for a home to call its own, even while celebrating its 50th anniversary, Community Players announced defiantly that the show would go on, in spite of a lost lease. At present writing, Players are moving scenery into Mill Hill Playhouse, Trenton.

Concerned Princeton-area residents still protest stoutly against nuclear weapons, and the Coalition for Nuclear Disarmament held a discussion of the television film, "The Day After"

Just to remind Princeton that change has occurred in the past, came the 200th anniversary of the signing of the Treaty of Paris, ending the Revolutionary War. Such celebration! A feast! a bonfire with fireworks and singing! a 13-gun salute! a splendid ball!

And to top it all, ceremonies at Nassau Hall, reminding every one that Princeton was capital of the United States for four summer months in 1783, and it was here that Congress received news of the signing of the Treaty. There was, in Nassau Hall, a re-enactment of Congress receiving the Treaty and the startling

REMEMBER THE KIOSK? Some day a Princeton history book may include the simple entry, "1983 — the Battle of the Kiosk." The tiny building with the copper roof in front of One Palmer Square was the first visible step in the Collins plan for the central business district. The result was an early public relations loss for Collins. But by year's end the kiosk was still standing, business was said to be improving, and management was preparing to add lottery tickets to the bill of goods.

In Memoriam

Princeton lost a part of itself during 1983. These are townspeople who died during the year who had helped to make and shape a part of the community.

Dr. Pia Chu Tan, January 10, Princeton physician for many years.

William R. Bonthron, January 17, world-record (1934) 1500-meter runner, outstanding amateur athlete.

Warren E. Huff, February 13, active in civil rights and community service groups.

Frank W. Notesstein, February 19, world-renowned demographer.

Sebastian G. Cante, March 15, founder of the restaurant that bears his name.

Norton C. Jefferson, March 25, founder of N.C. Jefferson Plumbing and Heating.

Michael Carnevale, April 4, co-founder of The Annex restaurant, father of the Borough's police chief.

The Rev. Dr. William L. Tucker, April 30, pastor emeritus of the former St. Andrews Presbyterian Church.

J. Seward Johnson, May 23, Johnson and Johnson heir, benefactor of Princeton Medical Center.

Dorothy E. Crossley (Mrs. Archibald), May 28, an officer of Archibald Crossley, Inc., the public opinion firm, founder of the school that later became Miss Mason's.

Myra Smith, June 23, originator of classes in theatre for young children.

Elishava Velikovskiy, June 24, sculptor, art teacher, widow of Immanuel Velikovskiy.

Charles R. Sperling, July 8, lawyer, Borough police chairman.

James Harris, July 27, president and chairman of the Board, Gallup and Robinson.

Phyllis Riley, August 12, co-founder of The Princeton Courier.

Adelle V. Mitchell, September 1, former executive director of the Stony Brook Millstone Watersheds Association.

The Rev. John V. Butler, September 19, former rector of Trinity Church.

John P. Gorman, October 30, quarterback for Princeton University's 1922 football "Team of Destiny."

ability to handle change" is the most important skill a child can learn. Highlights: children must have "functional literacy" in computers; they must learn critical reading (and viewing); their math courses should emphasize problem-solving; they should encounter math and statistics in all their courses in one way or another.

There was fun in September, as Community Park learned it would get a new playground with equipment made from old truck tires. Parents put it together on an October work week end.

In December, the public approved by a 9-1 margin, a $3.7 bond issue for renovating school buildings and playing fields.

In the private sector, James W. Grannentine became the new Headmaster at Princeton Day School.

Other institutions in News. Other institutions made their own news. In May, Princeton University dedicated its Tokamak fusion test reactor, and this fall, received approval for plans to build a new building devoted to molecular biology.

"No fraternities allowed" was the word from the University last spring. And officials warned that, if men did not register for the draft and lost Federal loans thereby, they would not receive money from the University to replace those lost loans.

The Medical Center finally received approval for construction of an office-classroom building on the corner of Witherspoon and Henry.

Most Significant News? Well, Route One began to have growing pains like a teen-age kid. Looking back, it may well be that 1983's most significant news was the start of Route One planning by the state's Department of Transportation.

With office buildings and hotels nudging against shopping malls and each other, with intersections packed to bursting at rush hours, with drawing boards almost as busy as the intersections, it looked as though Route One might strangle itself as well as its neighbors, unless the state did something.

Princeton University reminded the town of its foresight, ten years ago, in acquiring the 1600-acre For-restal tract on Route One and assigning to it open space, as well as corporate offices and housing.

By December of this year, the Mercer County Planning Board had announced it would not approve any more building on Route One until the state came up with a plan and began work on at least some of it. But in November, the state had said that re-designing the highway would not begin until two years from now — January of '86.

Plans for 92-A By-Pass. Meanwhile, there's another route — hoary old 92-A, if that's what you want to call it (has several names, appropriately, in one so old). This route, scheduled to veer off, north of Princeton, allowing truck traffic to by-pass the town on its way south and east, was the subject of discussion in March, when 300 residents crowded into West Windsor-Plainsboro High School to talk about it.

In June, Princeton Township had a nasty surprise when officials learned that the route had been pushed down toward Princeton by a change in DOT plans. Montgomery Township developer Carlton Homes showed a letter of agreement with the DOT on preserve both the land and the ed. Township officials filed suit in August against both the DOT and Carlton.

A Montgomery Township citizens group, CARS, developed an alternate route, and there was talk of greater collaboration between Montgomery and Princeton townships, considering their joint boundary line.

More Traffic News. What's the worst intersection in this part of the world?

Mercer County says Nassau-Washington Vandevert, almost tied with Nassau-Harrison.

If you're a parker, you found an increase in parking fees last January, and this fall, you found a new Park and Shop lot next to the library.

When communities grow, they grow on land and properties were in the 1983 news almost as much as people — and sewers.

In February, Kingston Trap Rock announced that it wanted to expand its quarry operations, and proposed to re-locate Route 518, build a new road along the canal to Route 27 and construct a water storage facility which could, presumably, be used for boating, and similar water-borne recreations.

Institute Plans Houses. At the other end of Princeton, the Institute for Advanced Study Now, PCH is waiting for HUD, took to the Planning Board in March a "discussion document" proposing 400 to 600 take the final steps. Princeton citizens in the Institute Woods and 70 John-Witherspoon Street area acres of open space. The Institute said it planned to develop its acreage because it needed the money.

The next month, a coalition of citizens announced that it would try to buy the Institute's Homes showed a letter of agreement with the DOT on preserve both the land and the ed. Township officials filed suit in August against both the DOT and Carlton.

Institute director Harry Woolf, who had said the Institute wanted $2 million, agreed to hold off for 90 days. In May, after the Planning Board had said, "come back with a wholly new plan," the Institute extended that 90 days to December 31. So far, the coalition is still canvassing for the money.

J. Robert Hillier obtained final approval to develop the Knox property on Mountain Avenue. This fall, it was announced that a developer planned 56 houses in the $300,000 to $400,000 range on the 81-acre Russell estate.

The 60-acre Cook property on the Lawrenceville Road, denied to Mercer Christian Academy for a school, was proposed for development and the 80-acre Clarke property at the foot of Mountain Avenue was sold, but no development planned. And another developer had an option for development of the Foullet property on Cherry Hill.

PCH Housing on Elm Road. When opponents of Princeton Community Housing's project could, presumably, be used for boating, and similar water-borne recreations.

Court ruling backing the Borough Zoning Board's variance, they left the way the Institute for Advanced Study Now, PCH is waiting for HUD, took to the Planning Board in March a "discussion document" proposing 400 to 600 take the final steps. Princeton citizens in the Institute Woods and 70 John-Witherspoon Street area acres of open space. The In-

The next month, a coalition of citizens announced that it would try to buy the Institute's Homes showed a letter of agreement with the DOT on preserve both the land and the ed. Township officials filed suit in August against both the DOT and Carlton.

A Second Grant. Another $85,000 grant came to the Borough. For a time, it looked as though it might be part of a package for construction of six units of elderly-handicapped housing where the John Street basketball court now is — at least, that's what neighbors said they wanted — but at year's end, the project was in limbo with no decision on how to spend that particular $85,000.

Merrill Lynch bought 250 Forrester acres for a national training headquarters, and Princeton Airport is still for sale. Princeton University settled its suit with the Township over re-zoning of land, including University properties, in the northwest part of the municipality.

If you live in the Borough, you learned this year that a new assessment has been completed, with properties assessed about 10 to 30 percent more. Hardly a ripple of comment, but Borough officials will hide behind the barricades next June when the first tax bills arrive and results of the new assessments are right there in black and white and dollars and cents.

If you rent in the Borough, you became aware of the new Rent Registration ordinance and began to watch for its effects on your rental bill.

New Borough Officials. The elected officials who lead you through the labyrinth of Collins, sewer lines, school

News of The THEATRES

LAST FIVE DAYS
For Christmas Carol, With the first week of "A Christmas Carol" a complete sellout, McCarter Theatre announces availability of excellent seats for the final days of the run, Dec. 28-Jan. 1.

Performances between Christmas and New Year are unique this year for many reasons: it is the first time McCarter has run "A Christmas Carol" the week of school vacations when children and college students are home for the holidays; it includes two matinees on New Year's Eve Day at 1 and 5 p.m. — leaving ample time to celebrate in the evening; and a 2:30 matinee on New Year's Day — an alternative for those who won't be glued to football games on TV.

The first week of "A Christmas Carol" included four sold-out student matinees, attended by elementary, junior high, and senior high students from area schools. The December 22 student matinee was unique as it was the only performance interpreted for the hearing-impaired by two "signers" using American Sign Language.

Signed performances, made possible by the McCarter Theatre Company, have been an important part of the Christmas Carol season for the past few years — and often schools without hearing-impaired students come to these performances, as it is an educational experience for all. It is also a special opportunity for hearing-impaired children to see live theatre, and many students who come to the signed performances of McCarter's "A Christmas Carol" are coming to a theatre for the very first time.

An addition bonus is offered the last week of the run by the Group Sales department: groups of 20 or more who wish to attend "A Christmas Carol" between December 28 and January 1 only will receive a 10 percent discount. For information, call Jim Olson, 452-6133.

Tickets in all sections of the theatre are available now through the box office, 92 University Place, Princeton. Call 609-452-5200, Monday through Saturday, noon to six. Visa, Mastercard and American Express are welcome.

We earnestly hope that the audiences which supported us for nearly ten years at our Broadmead theatre will continue to follow us to new locations until we find a permanent base in Princeton. We are hopeful for two reasons.

"In the first place, the Mill Hill Playhouse is a charming theatre and very easy to get to from the Princeton area. It is exactly 11.5 miles from Palmer Square (10.5 miles from the Penns Neck circle). The directions are simple: stay on Route 1 — the Trenton Freeway — to the exit for State Street and Front Street. Turn left off the ramp on Front Street, and drive two blocks. The Mill Hill Playhouse is at your left just before the traffic light on Montgomery Street. A large parking lot, free at night, is across Front Street from the theatre.

"Our second reason for asking you to stay with us concerns loyalty and survival. Without your continued support it is doubtful if the Princeton Community Players can long endure. We have contributed to the pleasure and theatrical life of Princeton for the past 50

NEW BALLET CLASSES
For Adults. New classes for adults have been added to the curriculum of the Princeton Ballet Society's School of Ballet. Classes will start in early January at the studios, 262 Alexander.

Esther Seligman will offer a ten-week session in creative modern dance, combining slow and stretching warm-ups with vigorous floor work. The classes are geared to non-dancers, as well as to dancers, and will be given Fridays from 9:15 to 10:45 a.m.

Mary Pat Robertson will teach a new Saturday afternoon beginner ballet class for high school students and adults. Her class will be given from 1:45 to 2:45 starting January 7. Ms. Robertson is co-founder of Teamwork Dance and recently received a choreographic fellowship from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts.

Nancy Thiel, co-director of the Mercer Dance Ensemble, will continue Tuesday and Thursday morning Dance Exercise for women, starting January 3. The exercise classes are given at 9 a.m. Registration may be made by calling 921-7758 between 10 and 5 week-days.

CELEBRATING 25
Alvin Ailey Here. Because the first two performances are sold out by subscription, McCarter added a matinee on Sunday, January 8 at 2:30 p.m., so that more Princeton dance audiences could celebrate the 25th anniversary this season of the Alvin Ailey American Dance Theatre.

Since it was founded 25 years ago, the company has performed for approximately 10 million people in 43 states and 44 countries on six continents.

Among the troupe's appearances are performances in Moscow and Leningrad as well as in parts of Russia where Western dancers had never been seen before (1970); at the First World Festival of Negro Arts in Senegal (1966) and at London's Sadler Wells Festival (1966).

Ailey dancers have performed regularly at McCarter for the past 15 years. Mr. Ailey was the recipient of an honorary degree from Princeton University in 1975.

Now everything you've always wanted for less... is less.

Our Annual Sale—

when almost everything is 10% to 40% off regular prices.

At Workbench, we don't have lots of storewide sales. Just one a year. But it's a dilly. Because we mark down all our best stuff. Not just a few things. Not even just a lot of things. But almost everything. And mark down is all we do. Because, unlike a lot of other places, we don't bring in so-called specials or things no one wants or that were over-priced in the first place. At Workbench we just go through the store with our red pencil and slash prices. Which means that right now you'll find Workbench's best at 10% to 40% less than you'd expect to pay.

Our Danish high back swivel chair from Kety. Black tube frame covered in either rust or black fabric. $179 reg. $199.

That's right, 10% to 40% off on butcher block tables, upholstery, storage systems, bookcases, carts, music benches, desks and chair after chair after chair. Even the already reduced "Foreign Policy" prices on most of our imports have been further price cut for this sale.

Of course, there are a few things currently oversold that we can't put on sale. But, odds are, the great things you've been promising yourself to get are here.

Is there a catch? Only time will tell. So hurry. Because if you wait too long, you'll have to wait a whole year for our sale to come around again. And that's more time than anyone should spend waiting to spend less.

Classic Danish bookcases from Westport in oak or teak veneers. As shown, wide tall book case 76h x 45w x 12d $99 reg. $119. Not too tall bookcase 76h x 21w x 12d $89 reg. $99. Single door $20 reg. $24.

Topics of the Town

EXTRA FINESSE
For Convicted Motorists.
Motorists who refuse to take a breathalyzer test or who are caught driving while suspended or without insurance will be subject to heavy surcharges under new regulations proposed by the Department of Insurance and the Division of Motor Vehicles.

The new surcharges will be in addition to those already mandated for motor vehicle point violations and drunk driving convictions. They are expected to generate approximately $25 million a year in additional revenue to help underwrite the operation of the Joint Underwriting Association.

The motor vehicle point and drunk driving surcharges already scheduled for collection in 1983 will generate from $31 to $42 million a year. Under the proposed regulations, motorists convicted in court or administratively suspended by the Division of Motor Vehicles for driving while suspended or driving without insurance will be required to pay an annual $250 surcharge for a three-year period. Drivers causing a fatal accident also will have to pay the $250 annual surcharge for three years.

Motorists found guilty of driving while unlicensed, and motorists who fail to insure their vehicles will be required to pay $100 annual surcharges for three years. In addition, any motorist who refuses to take a breathalyzer test, whether the violation occurs in New Jersey or out of state, and any motorist convicted of drunk driving out of state will be subject to one-time surcharges of $1,000. The drunk driving surcharge currently required under the Reform Act only applies to convictions occurring in New Jersey.

"The regulations have been proposed to assure that motorists, who would have previously been required to pay higher insurance premiums under the soon-to-be abolished Assigned Risk Plan because of such violations, don't reap financial rewards under the new Reform Act," said Joseph F. Murphy, the State's Insurance Commissioner. Under the old plan, motorists convicted of motor vehicle violations could face premium increases ranging from 20 to 225 percent. Under the new Reform Act, insurance companies will no longer be allowed to impose those increases for motor vehicle violations.

PROGRAMS LISTED
To Basketball, Volleyball, The Recreation Department will begin its informal open basketball program for women on Tuesday, January 10, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., in the John Witherspoon School Gymnasium. Bob Smyth will supervise this free program. Men interested in playing basketball may do so on Monday and Thursday nights from 7:15 to 10 in the John Witherspoon gym. Monday nights are for the recreational player while Thursday evenings are reserved for more competitive play.

The Recreation Department will also sponsor an informal coed volleyball program on Wednesday nights from 7 to 9 in the John Witherspoon gym beginning January 11. For additional information on winter programs, call 921-9480.

HOSPICE IS TOPIC
OF Lecture. "Hospice: a Better Way to Care for the Dying," is the title of a lecture to be given on Tuesday, January 3, at 8 p.m., at the Unitarian Church of Princeton. Maureen Eng will be the speaker at the event, which is sponsored by the Holistic Health Association.

Hospice care is an interdisciplinary approach to the care of the dying. The talk will focus on the philosophy and history of the hospice concept. Discussion will also include the rapid growth of hospice programs offering care in New Jersey. The film "Day by Day" will be shown. Maureen Eng, R.N., M.A., is executive director of the New Jersey Hospice Organization, a private, non-profit organization representing more than 30 programs of hospice service in New Jersey. For further information, call the HHAPA office, 924-8580.

Year End Review

closings, parking problems and taxes, will change this New Year's Day. The Borough's first woman mayor and its first mayor from the Democratic party in 22 years will take office January 1. She is Barbara Sigmond, a former member of Borough Council and a former Mercer County Freeholder. She defeated opponent Richard Woodbridge by 449 votes. Mr. Woodbridge will remain on Council, where he has two more years in his third term.

The Borough mayorality contest looked, for a time, like a primary contest as well, because Democrat Barbara Hill had announced her interest in the job before Mrs. Sigmond did. But Ms. Hill withdrew, declaring cryptically "I am not a street-fighter," and a primary battle was avoided.

In the Township, Winthrop S. Pike won re-election and will presumably remain as mayor. A small political skirmish developed in the Township last New Year's Day, as Mayor Pike nominated Gail Firestone to be deputy mayor, although William Cherry had just completed a year in that office.

Mr. Cherry was also re-elected, nailing out Democrat Eleanor Lewis by only eight votes, after a re-count. Year's Worst Crime. Any community, bad news is always news, and crime filled the columns of newspapers in 1983, as it has in other years.

In January, Christine Thieck died after she had been shot while walking in the parking lot of Franklin Township high school. A suspect later committed suicide.

In March, Borough police began pressing Council to remodel their headquarters for greater efficiency, and in the same month, Township police appeared in phalanx before Township Committee to ask that vacant positions in their ranks be filled.

An astonished Township Police Chief Anthony Pinelli told reporters one week in April that there was absolutely no crime news — no breaking-and-entering, no burglaries, no thefts. But it didn't last.

Parents, worried by stories in other communities about children who had disappeared, began to consider having their children fingerprinted at police headquarters, and many families took advantage of an opportunity to do this. The prints are given to the family and no record is kept in police headquarters.

The juveniles who went on a rampage of vandalism in June, left behind thousands of dollars in damaged property. Police do not release the names of juvenile offenders.

The October rape of a Seminary student in the parking yard of Princeton University housing was difficult for Township police to investigate because the victim herself would not come forward and discuss the crime with police. It has, apparently, remained unsolved.

Old Crime Solved. But in October, the books were closed on other rapes, committed two years ago, when the rapist was sentenced to 60 years in prison.

Also in October, two WANT EXTRA INCOME? A temporary or part-time job may be the answer. Read the Help Wanted ads in this issue of TOWN TOPICS for a varied selection of opportunities open to you.

Princeton pharmacists pled guilty to Medicaid and Blue Cross fraud.

And for 1984 — horses? Borough Police Chief Michael Carnevale has made a case for mounted police — he'd like two horses — for the Borough, and had said that a mountie from Philadelphia would be happy to visit Princeton and give a demonstration. So far, no horse show.

The year was only about six weeks old, that February Friday when it began to snow. By the time it stopped, the morning of Saturday, February 12, there were 12 to 16 inches on the ground, depending on how deep your shovel would measure.

It wasn't even a record. Tell that to the baby who was born in a four-wheel drive truck while mother was on her way to the hospital. Or to the hospital workers themselves who showed up for work with toothbrush and a change of socks prepared to stay as long as needed, or the hospital crews that worked 48 hours on snow removal.

The Valentine Dance at the Art People Place went on as planned that Saturday night and that takes a lot of heart. There was even champagne. And during the snowstorm itself, there was thunder — remember?

Then the Rains Came. March and April were like a couple of squeezed sponges. In March, 8.12 inches of rain fell in the month's 31 days. (In New York, it was the wettest March, ever). On Easter Sunday alone, in Princeton, we had 1.37 inches. Enough to make the flowers grow on your bonnet.

April 18 and 19, almost a month into spring, brought snow (and overflowing sewers, but what's new?).

Along in there somewhere, we had six wet week-ends in a row.

All this was getting us limbered up for one of the hottest summers Princeton has ever had.

The 95 degrees on September 19 was a record. The high of 99 on September 10, ditto.

Drouth Follows Rains. And who would have guessed, in April, that Princeton would have a summertime drought! Dead lawns were having a record year, and the dry weather was bad because it was hot, and because the dry heat went on so long. In July, there were eight consecutive days when it was 90 or above, and throughout the month, only 3.27 inches of rain.

Yes, the Fourth of July in 1983 was hotter. You may have spent the Fourth with the other 1,000 Princeton residents who were at the Community Park swimming pool complex. Or maybe you were in the newly-opened Turning Basin Park, on the west side of Alexander Road on the way to Route One: canal for canoeing, tables and grills for picnicking, trails for walking.

As the year waned, nature and animal lovers were on the horns, if not of a buck deer, at least of a dilemma: what to do about the Township's fat and sassy deer population, growing by leaps and bounds and taking those leaps and bounds into the paths of cars, the gardens of gardeners?

Fewer children in the schools, more deer on Route One and George Orwell waiting around the bend for 1984...

Happy New Year!

JEWELRY IS MISSING

From Two Township Homes. Township police report jewelry missing from two Township homes but no sign of forced entry in either theft.

Approximately $1800 in jewelry was removed from a jewelry box in a master bedroom in a Hunt Drive home last week between 6:30 and 11 in the evening. The victim told police that a party had been going on in the house during those hours.

Taken sometime during a three week period in December from a Dogwood Hill home (off Mt. Lucas Road) was approximately $2300 in jewelry from a jewelry box in a master bedroom dresser. During the period, police were told, workmen had been about the premises. Ptl. Virgil Angelini investigated both thefts.

A window facing an alley was broken to enter a Witherspoon Street store between 8:30 Friday evening and 9:45 Saturday morning.

Taken from the store was a paper copying machine valued at $1,595. A binding on a machine worth $1,895 was damaged during the entry.

TWO ARE CHARGED

In Coat Thefts. Two Trenton residents have been charged with possession of stolen property following the theft of two coats Monday from a coat room at the Nassau Inn.

They are Michael George, 22, and William Shaw, 21. Both were later released, pending their appearance in Borough court scheduled for next Wednesday.

A third suspect was arrested when he was seen walking with George and Shaw outside the Inn. Michael Linton, 23, also of Trenton, was turned over to the Trenton Police.

TAKE TWO! With Clarke McFarlane directing and Peter Hoffman running the camera, Elizabeth Kenny and Seth Herzog star in a video production at Creative Theatre Unlimited. Department after a crime paper copying machine check revealed he was wanted valued at $1,595. A binding on a machine worth $1,895 was damaged during the entry.

Patrolmen Chris Boutote and Mark Stillitano arrived in separate patrol cars after a manager at the Inn called at 1:15 p.m. to report the theft of two customers' coats from the Greenhouse Restaurant. He gave police a description of two suspects he had seen acting suspiciously in the Inn and were later seen wearing the stolen coats.

Moments later, Ptl. Boutote observed two suspects fitting the description at a Palmer Square bus stop. Both were wearing Shearling coats which had been discovered missing by the victims as they

Battle of Princeton
There will be a talk on the events of the Battle of Princeton Tuesday at 11 at the flagpole in Battlefield Park on Mercer Road.
Given by Richard W. Baker Jr., president of the Princeton Battlefield Area Preservation Society, the talk will be given on the 207th anniversary of the historic turning point in the American Revolution, which took place January 3, 1777. Clarke House, where General Mercer was cared for after the Battle, and where he died nine days later, will be open for visitors for a brief time after the talk.
The public is invited.

were getting ready to leave the restaurant.

One of the suspects fled across Nassau Street and was apprehended on the university campus. The second was pointed out by the manager, whom police had taken to the scene in a patrol car. He fled into a Nassau Street building where he removed the stolen coat and placed it on a chair. He was also apprehended and police recovered both coats.

One coat was valued and $400 and contained a $30 pair of gloves; the second was valued at $160.

CAR SNAPS POLE

On Murray Place. A car turning left from a private drive onto Murray Place last week, jumped the curb and struck a service pole, snapping it 15 feet above ground level.

The driver, Brian Wagner, 21, of Burd Road, Pennington, was taken by the Princeton Medical Center where he was treated for contusions and abrasions to both knees.

Mr. Wagner, an employee of Larry's Sunoco service station on the corner of Murray Place and Nassau, told Sgt. Peter Hanley that a car traveling in the opposite direction was on his side of road. He tried to pull right, hit the curb and lost control. Sgt. Hanley was unable to locate any witnesses to the mishap.

The car, a 1979 sedan, was a customer's car that had been left at the station for repair.

THEFT REPORT

Wallet, Tapes Stolen. A wallet and cassette tapes were among items reported stolen last week by police.

The wallet, containing $10, was removed from a purse that had been left unattended last week on a shelf in a room in a Nassau Street church; the seven cassette tapes valued at $28 were taken from an unlocked car parked last week in the Park and Shop lot off Spring Street. The victim is a Princeton resident.

Front and rear New York license plates were stolen last week from the car of a Westminster Choir College student who discovered the overnight theft while he was parking his car to return home for the holidays.

When a Princeton resident arrived home last week after dining at a Nassau Street restaurant he discovered that someone had removed his wallet from his coat while it was unattended in a booth. He lost $5; the wallet was valued at $20.

Five dollars worth of gasoline was siphoned from the car of a Hopewell Township resident last week. Police report the car, found abandoned on a roadway, was

Ice Safety Brochures

Ice Safety rules and regulations for Lake Carnegie and the pond at Community Park North are available at all Princeton Schools, the Public Library, Borough Hall and the Township offices at the Valley Road Building, the Township Police headquarters and the Recreation Department.

Those who like to skate are asked to pick up a brochure and study it. To find out whether there is skating on any particular day, call the Recreation Department at 921-9480 or listen to radio station WHWH.

issued a summons by Montgomery Township police and then towed to a Princeton garage. Police were unable to determine whether the gas had been siphoned while the car was left on the roadway or in the garage.

What police are calling an attempted motor vehicle theft involved the 1978 sedan of a Clover Lane resident. The owner told police that when he had parked his car in the drive at 7:30 in the evening, it was clean. The next morning he found that the car's tires were muddy, the ignition switch had been pried and broken and the car had been moved. Ptl. Virgil Angelini, who investigated, reported that it appears the car had rolled backward in the driveway but he was unable to determine if the car had been driven.

Borough police, after he refused to pay a $15 cab fare, PI. Ronald Wohlsehlegel had responded to a 10:36 p.m. call from a Trenton cab dispatcher who reported that one of their drivers needed assistance at the intersection of William Street and Washington Road. When he arrived, the driver pointed to a bush where he said his fare was hiding after refusing to pay for a ride from Trenton. When the officer ordered the suspect to come out, Henderson complied, was issued a summons and is scheduled to appear in court next Wednesday.

DRIVER IS CHARGED
With DWI, Leaving the Scene. Eighteen-year-old Peter Gambino of Somerset was charged by Township police last week with driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident.

As the officer passed Mountainview he observed the suspect car parked off to the side with the driver attempting to jack it up to repair a flat. Gambino was given a balance and coordination test at the scene and then taken to police headquarters where he was given a Breathalyzer test and later charged. He is scheduled to appear in Township court in January.

THE HOSPITAL GOES TO THE CLASSROOM: Kelly Tegely, Princeton Medical Center Nursing Care coordinator, explains medical equipment to West Windsor-Plainsboro kindergarten children in Wicoff School. The school tour was arranged by the eight-member volunteer staff for the children in order to reduce possible fears that youngsters might have about medical care and experience.

SCHOOL BUS WINDOW SHOT
By Pellet. A 10- by 18-inch glass pane in a school bus was shattered, apparently by a BB pellet, as the bus was traveling last week on Princeton Kingston Road near Locust Lane.

In the Borough, police report that the gas cap and side view mirrors of a car were broken off while it was parked overnight on Stanworth Drive. Police found footprints in the snow leading from the car toward John Street. The victim is a resident of Stanworth Drive.

THREE ARE FINED
In Township Court. Three Princeton area residents were fined last week in Township court.

Constance Wolff, 111 Red Hill Road, was fined $65 for a stop sign violation and Frank E. Johnson, 30 Sayer Drive, paid the same amount for failure to give proper signal.

In criminal court Judge Sydney Sauter fined Theodore H. Kennedy, 76 Franklin Corner Road, Lawrenceville, $75 for criminal mischief and ordered him to pay $25 to the Violent Crime Compensation Board. Kennedy had been charged by police with ripping off the door of Cenerino's Restaurant on Leigh Avenue.

TWENTY-SIX ARE BORN
At Medical Center. The births of eight girls and eighteen boys were reported last week at the Princeton Medical Center.

Daughters were born to Health Screenings Set. The Health Department will sponsor a health screening session on Wednesday, January 4, from 2 to 3 in the basement of Borough Hall. Screenings will be for blood pressure and diabetes, in addition to hemocult checks.

Persons wishing to participate may do so on a walk-in basis; appointments are not necessary. However, the Health Department recommends that those persons wishing to be screened for diabetes eat a full meal, preferably with dessert, 1½-2 hours before the test is to be done to insure greater accuracy in the test reading.

$3 MILLION EARMARKED
For Junction Station. If all goes according to schedule—a significant "if" when dealing with the railroad, the aging train station at Princeton Junction will be demolished this spring and a spanking new station will be built within a year.

That good news for commuters comes from New Jersey Transit, which last week announced that it had received a $15.7 million grant from the Federal Urban Mass Transit Administration. Of that money, about $3.1 million will be allocated to the reconstruction of the Princeton Junction station, which will also benefit from parking and traffic improvements that will be financed by $1.5 million from a

Fund Hits 73 Percent
With approximately another month to go, the United Way-Red Cross campaign for the Princeton area has achieved 73 percent of its goal.
To date $1,100,365 of the $1.5 million goal has been collected. Recent strong employee campaigns at some area companies pushed the total up several percentage points, and there is still a strong feeling among the volunteers that the drive will reach its goal if everyone contributes.
Contributions can be sent to the United Way Offices, P.O. Box 1152, Princeton, 08540.

The new station, to be located just south of the present one, will include a high level platform that will enable passengers to board trains without climbing stairs and will enable the railroad to operate with fewer crewmen and shorter station stops.

The new waiting room will have more seating capacity. New Jersey Transit officials said, and will include longer canopies to protect passengers waiting outside. The traffic improvements will include widening Wallace Circle, the loop off Wallace Road that serves as a drop-off and pick-up point next to the station. Access for buses will also be improved.

New Jersey Transit officials said that the work has been planned in stages "to minimize interference for passengers" during the reconstruction process.

He fills the vacancy left by Charles L. Taggart who resigned in August to become director of development for the Boston Museum of Fine Arts.

Sally M. Moren of Poe Road has been appointed communications-publications associate at Princeton University.

Ms. Moren will assume the responsibilities of managing editor of the Princeton Weekly Bulletin, the official university newspaper that is published 30 times during the academic year. The Weekly Bulletin has a circulation of 13,500 and covers news and features of university events, personalities, research and policies.

Author of three novels and a number of scholarly articles on Near Eastern studies, Ms. Moren has been an assistant editor since 1980 of the Journal of Cuneiform Studies, a quarterly devoted to primary research on Mesopotamia and other ancient Near Eastern cultures. She is the author and principal editor of a study of Babylonian terrestrial omens which will be published in three volumes, beginning early next year.

George D. Eggers Jr.

Princeton University has named George D. Eggers Jr. of Southern Way as its new director of development.

Mr. Eggers has served as associate director in the Leadership Gifts section of Princeton's Development Office since July 1980. In his new position he is responsible for managing capital giving activities in A Campaign for Princeton, the University's $275 million fund-raising effort.

In addition to his experience as a fund raiser, he is a retired Army brigadier general, a member of the Princeton class of 1947 and a 1990 graduate of Princeton.

Mr. Eggers matriculated at wartime Princeton in July 1943, but left the following year to join the army. After the war he decided to make a career of the service, eventually earning a government-sponsored B.S. from the University of Maryland and a Master in Public Affairs from Princeton's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and Social Administration.

is a fee for this.

Ten Mercer County residents have been named to seats on the newly formed Mercer County Agricultural Development Board by County
Executive Bill Mathesius.
Farmer members include
Gary Mount of Cold Soil Road, a fruit farmer; Charles S.
Bryan of Federal City Road,
Hopewell Township, a dairy farmer; Robert Reed of Rabbit Hill Road, West Windsor; and Donald Woodward of Hopewell Township, grain farmers.

The council will also have three non-farming members.
They are Winona D. Nash of Lawrenceville, who was appointed to a two-year term;

Maryland, an M.S.E.E. degree from the University of New Mexico and is a graduate of the Harvard Business School's Advanced Management Program.

Saney Tindall, former mayor of Washington Township, who will serve a four-year term, and Peggy McNeill of Princeton Township, for a three-year term.

Mercer County Planning Board member Samuel Humes will also serve on the special board, joining Charles Holmes, chief of the Mercer County Extension Service, and Edward DiPolvere of West Windsor, a representative of the Soil Conservation District.

Patrick R. Brannigan, of Vannoy Avenue, Pennington, former deputy director of the New Jersey Department of Motor Vehicles, has been named executive director of the new Center for Information Technology (CIAT) at
New Jersey Institute of Technology.

He will be responsible for developing programs in which the center's resources can be used to help government, educational and business institutions make the leap into
"the information age." Mr.
Brannigan says CIAT is a technological version of agricultural extension programs, in which the expertise and facilities of state universities are made available as a public service.

Mr. Brannigan was responsible for implementing the Division of Motor Vehicles plan for computerization and the redesign of its data base.
He also served as deputy director for the Division of Citizens Complaints for the N.J. Department of the Public Advocate, assistant director of the New Jersey Public Service Institute and community service officer for the state's Department of Community Affairs.

DON'T START ANOTHER DIET

TILL YOU CHECK WITH DIET CENTER!

At 5'11" and 195 pounds, I was about ready to throw in the towel. I had tried to lose weight but nothing seemed to work. Then I checked with Diet Center. In that first intuitive consultation, I knew I had found the answer. The diet was great and I was never hungry, or moody, as I had been before. But the real difference was the daily support from a counselor who really cares and understands.

Now I can't pass a mirror or a store window without stopping to look at myself. I like what I see. A whole new me! My family and friends are so proud of my success and my entire outlook on life is great. I applied to tell my story in advertising because I know what it is like to try to lose weight, to fail and to blame myself for it. Now I know that on the right program, anybody can lose weight, and Diet Center has the right program!

Princeton's Generosity.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
More than 100 Princeton families had a merry Christmas, thanks to the generosity and caring school exists in this community. The integrated efforts of various public and private agencies, social and civic groups and interested individuals is, I believe, unique to Princeton, which should justly pride itself on its concern for those less fortunate.

Princeton Shopping Center merchants, under the able direction of Caryn Fenton, coordinated total Christmas dinners for 75 families. Contributing money to that effort were the Princeton Soroptimists, Lioness Club and private individuals.

The Princeton Post office employees, under the inspired guidance of Pam Hendricks, collected canned goods and staples to supplement another 22 families' holiday meals. Ed Tkacs spearheaded a

SPORTS

Distribution was arranged with the cooperation of employees of Princeton Community Village, the Princeton Housing Authority and Carol Karbel of Crisis Ministry, who channeled its van full of unloading muscle power in lifting boxes was supplied by Fred Tolo, through the good graces of the Township Public Works Department.

Salvation Army provided food for dolls and trucks for girls and 55 boys and private individuals also donated toys and sweaters. Dolls were dressed by senior citizens, sixth graders at Stuart, the Soroptimists, YWCA groups and employees at Borough and Township Halls.

Such a concerted effort on the part of many to bring some joy to others truly typifies the Christmas spirit. For all the recipients, a heart felt thank you.

PHS VS PENNSBURY
This Wednesday, the Princeton High School gymnasium was the site of the Ewing High School gymnasium. Princeton High School will oppose Pennsbury High School in the first game of the Blue Devil Classic. The Ewing and Simon Gratz High of Philadelphia will meet in the second game at 8:15. The winners will meet Friday at 8:15 for the championship, while the losers will clash in a consolation game, starting at 6:45.

This is a new journey for PHS which last year competed in the Manalapan Tournament. It lost in the opening round to host Manalapan High, 59-43, and then came back to win the consolation round, defeating Matawan, 75-52.

It's hard to get a handle on how PHS will do in the tournament. PHS coach Marvin Trotman said that he knows nothing about the Pennsbury team. The Pennsylvania school is noted more for its fine football teams year after year.

Other Sports
on Pages 28-30

PHS itself is largely untested. The Little Tigers defeated Lawrence High by 25 points last week in their only game of the season but the Cardinals, 5-15 last year, are not expected to be one of the top teams in the area this year. Trotman, who started five underclassmen against Lawrence — juniors Scott Fisher, Keith Green, Freddie Young and Frank Massoni and sophomore Marvin Trotman Jr. — acknowledged that, realistically, his team is a year away from being a good team.

But then maybe not a whole year away. The Little Tigers did so many things right against Lawrence, played good defense, passed well, shot well from the foul line — that Trotman said later that he had to be pleased. The potential of the team has yet to be tested.

It will in short order, however, should both PHS and Ewing win and meet for the title game. Ewing had a sensational year last year, winning 27 of 29 games and losing the Group 3 state championship game to Phillipsburg by one point.

Although hit hard by graduation, the Blue Devils have been given the nod again as the team to beat in the Colonial Valley Conference league where every coach — including Trotman — predicts that the league will much more balanced this season.

Ewing's edge in the area is based almost entirely on the return of Tom Berry, its 6-2½ swingman and a member of the All-Mercer County team last year. Berry is a prolific scorer and in Ewing's last start, he poured in 34 points to lead the Blue Devils to a 75-46 victory over Hightstown — their third in a row without a loss.

If Pennsbury has an advantage over PHS, it most certainly is in experience. The Falcons have already played ten games to one for PHS, winning six. In its most recent start, Pennsbury shaded rival Bristol, 63-61, in overtime on a shot by Chris Ford (20 points) at the buzzer.

In its only game, PHS was paced by Young and Fisher who combined for 24 points.

BITUARIES

George Kuser, 90, died December 20 at his home on Lambert Drive. He founded the Hemphill-Noyes brokerage office in Trenton in 1929 and remained active in the business until his retirement five years ago.

The son of Frederick and Teresa Doelger Kuser, he was born in the family home on East 57th Street in New York City. Five years before his birth, his father built a summer home in Hamilton Township, where the family moved year-round in 1926. Always known as Kuser Farm, it has been operated by Hamilton Township as a park and museum since 1976.

Mr. Kuser was a graduate of De LaSalle Academy and Manhattan College in New York. He was briefly associated with his father in the insurance business before opening the Hemphill Noyes brokerage office on September 3, 1929, in a suite on the mezzanine floor of the Stacy Trenton Hotel, now the site of the state Taxation Building.

At that time the large board he had built across the front of the suite's main room listed 80 stocks, making that office the biggest brokerage house in town. In later life, Mr. Kuser liked to recall that he had remained in business through the stock market crash the month following the opening of the office and throughout the Depression, the only brokerage house in Trenton to do so.

Hemphill Noyes remained at the Stacy Trenton for 35 years before moving to the Hotel Hildebrecht and later to a building between the two hotels on West State Street. Following a number of mergers, it is now the local office of Shearson American Express in Lawrence Township.

Mr. Kuser worked five days a week until his retirement at age 85, and he prided himself that he still had as clients many of the families whose accounts he had begun in 1929.

He is survived by his wife of 60 years, the former Mary Kerney; a daughter, Mrs. Arthur S. Lane of Harborton; two sons, R. George Kuser Jr. of New York City and James K. Kuser of Mercerville; and six grandchildren; six great-grandchildren; and a brother, Frederick A. Kuser of Rossmoor.

Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Trenton, followed by private burial. The family requests that contributions be made to the Church of the Sacred Heart, 343 South Broad Street, Trenton.

Daisy Brooks Parker, 88, of Leigh Avenue, died December 21 at her home. She had lived in Princeton for more than 50 years.

The widow of the Rev. W. T. Parker, former pastor of the First Baptist Church of Princeton, she was born in Savannah, Georgia, and graduated from Savannah College. She taught school there before moving to this area and attending Rider College.

Mourners include the Turner family, Mrs. Ida Dixon, other relatives, and many friends. The funeral was held at the First Baptist Church, with the Rev. Edward Smith officiating. Burial was in Princeton Cemetery.

Barbara J. Packer, 83, of 71 Patton Avenue, died December 23 at her home. She was born and raised in Princeton. For the past 20 years she worked as a secretary at the Westminster Choir College.

Surviving are her mother, Elizabeth A. Packer of Princeton; a sister, Elizabeth P. Kleiber of Mercerville; and a niece and two nephews.

Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated Wednesday morning at St. Paul's Church. Burial was in St. Paul's Cemetery under the direction of the Mather-Hodge Funeral Home.

David Hugh Jones, 83, a former Princeton resident and a member of the faculty at the Princeton Theological Seminary from 1934 until his retirement in 1970, died December 21 in North Conway, New Hampshire.

Born in Jackson, Ohio, Mr. Jones graduated from the Guilford Organ School in New York City in 1920 and studied at the American Conservatory in Fontainebleau, France. In 1926 he became a charter member of the faculty of the Westminster Choir College, where he continued to teach composition and organ after his appointment to the seminary.

While at the seminary, he founded the Seminary Touring Choir, which sang in more than 2,000 churches across the country and in Cuba, Canada, Mexico, Colombia, Venezuela, and the Caribbean. In 1953 the choir was invited to sing at more than 100 military bases in Japan and Korea. A composer of numerous choral works, Mr. Jones was editor of a hymnbook published in 1955 by five Presbyterian and Reformed denominations.

After his retirement he served as organist in several churches in New Hampshire.

Surviving are his wife, Mildred Palmer Jones; three daughters, Jane Ann Smith of East Williston, New York, Kathryn Johnson of Atlanta, and Elyn Jones of Victor, Montana; and six grandchildren.

A memorial service will be held Thursday in New Hampshire.

Ruth Rieschick, 78, of Philadelphia, died there on December 10. She formerly lived at Rossmoor in Jamesburg and in Princeton, where she was a member of the Present Day Club.

She is survived by two sisters, Laurena Rieschick of Philadelphia and Kathryn R. Wengel of Princeton; and a nephew, Douglas Wengel of Princeton.

Burial was in Falls City, Nebraska, her birthplace.

Elizabeth L. Ehart, 70, of Valley Road, Hopewell Township, died December 20 at the Princeton Medical Center. She helped organize and was the director of the New Jersey State Scholarship Commission and the Scholarship Loan Commission, which she led until her retirement in 1979.

Born in Camp Point, Illinois, she earned her master's degree and doctorate in educational psychology from the University of Illinois. She was a guidance counselor at Cornell University for four years before beginning her work with the scholarship commission.

A nationally recognized authority on the administration of higher education financial aid, she served in 1970-71 as the first woman president of the National Association of State Scholarship and Grant Programs.

Surviving are a son, William W. Ehart of Hopewell Township; a brother, Roy Harvey Liggett Jr. of Washington, D. C.; and a sister, Dorothy Swallow of Quincy, Illinois.

The Rev. James H. Biggs of the United Methodist Church of Pennington is officiating at a memorial service being held this Wednesday. Memorial contributions may be made to the Visiting Nurses Association, Hamilton and Whittaker Avenues, Trenton.

John L. Morrell, 86, of Friends Village, Newtown, died December 20 in Chandler Hall, Newtown, after a long illness.

Born in Pennington, Mr. Morrell had lived there all his life before moving to Newtown 2½ years ago. He had been employed by Public Service Electric & Gas Co. for 30 years before his retirement.

Mr. Morrell was the oldest living member of the First United Methodist Church of Pennington, having joined the church in 1915. A meeting room in the church had been named in his honor. He was the former superintendent of the Sunday School and was a member of the choir for more than 30 years. He was also a member of the administrative board, a former member of the board of trustees and a member of the Social Lights.

His most recent position with the church was that of supervisor of grounds and buildings.

He was a member of Cyrus Lodge No. 148 F&AM of Pennington, Scottish Rite Valley of Trenton and the LX Club of Pennington. Surviving are his wife, Minnetta Gulick Morrell, and many nieces and nephews.

The service was held at a Pennington memorial home, the Rev. James H. Biggs, pastor of the First United

SERVICES, FELLOWSHIP
For New Year's Eve, Day, a number of area churches have planned special services or holiday gatherings this weekend to mark the start of the new year.

All Saints' Episcopal Church, Terhune and All Saints' Roads, will hold a New Year's Eve service beginning at 10 p.m. Saturday. The first hour will be a time for watch and prayer. Holy Eucharist will be celebrated at 11 p.m.

Bunker Hill Lutheran Brethren Church, Bunker Hill Road, Griggstown, will hold a New Year's Eve Potluck Fellowship and Watchnight Service Saturday at 7 p.m. The Rev. Robert Sletta is pastor. For information call (201) 359-6302.

Trinity Church choir and clergy will present the annual Festival of Lessons and Carols Sunday, New Year's Day, at 11 a.m. at the Princeton University Chapel. John Bertalot, organist and director of music at Trinity, will direct the music.

All are invited to this traditional service of lessons read by choir members alternating with Christmas carols.

Nassau Presbyterian Church, Nassau Street across from Palmer Square, will hold a special coffee and fellowship hour following the 10 a.m. worship service, Sunday, New Year's Day.

All Saints' Episcopal Church, Terhune and All Saints' Roads, will hold its annual Homecoming Party Sunday after the 11:15 a.m. service of Holy Eucharist. Each family is asked to bring a dozen cookies (as well as a festive spirit) to share with the students home for the holidays and other visitors as well.

Mark and Diane Yasuhara, known as The Hawaiians, will be appearing in concert on Sunday, New Year's Day, at 4 p.m. at Nassau Christian Center, Nassau and Chambers Streets.

The Hawaiians have been frequent guests of the Billy Graham international television crusades, the 700 Club and the P.T.I. Club. They blend the music of their native Hawaiian Islands with traditional hymn favorites and contemporary gospel arrangements to provide a concert program for all age groups and musical tastes. They have recorded seven albums during their concert ministry career.

All are welcome.

BULLETIN NOTES

The Jewish Center, 457 Nassau Street, is considering offering a course on the United States in the 1920s and 1930s if there is enough interest. The course will be taught by Elizabeth Eltinger and will be taught on Wednesday mornings beginning in March. The fee will be $25, again depending on enrollment.

Those who are not members of the Jewish Center are welcome to participate. For more information call Florence Nathan, administrator at 921-0100.

Here's the story of one of the most amazing football players of all time. This man was so outstanding that he became the only player in football history ever named All-America at 2 different positions the SAME YEAR! His name: Bronko Nagurski. He played fullback on offense and tackle on defense for the University of Minnesota in 1929 and was selected All-America at BOTH positions.

TIGER 5 IN GOOD SHAPE

For Rochester Classic. What many thought would be just a proverbial rebuilding year for the Princeton basketball team, now has more promise thanks to the performance of two returning players and two freshmen.

Off to upper New York state for the Rochester Classic, the Tigers have bagged four victories in six games, and stand a decent chance of capturing the championship in this one. They meet Northeastern this Wednesday night at 7 in the opening round. WPRB-FM (103.3) will carry the game live.

The two returnees who have exceeded pre-season expectations are Kevin "Moon" Mullin and Howie Levy. The sixth man for the Orange and Black a year ago, Mullin is having a stellar season in his role as a starting forward. He has scored exactly 100 points or 16.7 per game to lead the team.

He also tops the squad in rebounding with a 6.2 average. His 23 points against Santa Clara, a career high, and 11 against Houston earned him all-tournament team honors at the Christmas Kettle Classic.

Mullin's abilities were perhaps discernible a year ago as a substitute, but the real surprise has been the play of Levy at center. As back-up to Rich Simkus last season, Levy often looked uncomfortable and awkward in competition. He averaged less than two points a game, never scoring more than six.

As a starter this winter, he has gotten off to a better start than anyone including coach Pete Carril would have thought possible. His 12.5 scoring average, includes 20 against Rutgers, and is second on the team. He has missed scoring in double figures only once.

More importantly, his stamina has improved considerably as well, and Levy has averaged 34 minutes of playing time per game. He needs to do better under the boards, but Levy has definitely proved he belongs on the starting team.

The other forward spot was a question mark at the beginning of the season, and two freshmen are helping to fill it. Aaron Belz, averaging 5.3 points, appears to have nailed down the starting role, and Jay Bubniak (4.8 ppg) is ready when needed.

Carril is not hesitating to use eight or nine players in a game when needed, including Alan Williams, Joe Scott, and Isaac Carter. This experience will help not only down the stretch, but future seasons as well.

The only minor disappointment so far has been the point production of sophomore John Smyth. He carried an 11-point average as a freshman, but is managing only 7.3 to date.

Northeastern 5-2, Princeton has little or no prior experience against the teams in the Rochester event. The game against Northeastern will only be the second meeting between the two schools.

The Huskies captured the first in 1979, beating the Orange and Black, 74-52, in Jadwin. Coach Jim Calhoun's team is led by senior forward Mark Halsel, who has averaged 26.3 points in seven games. The Huskies have won five of those, with one of the losses that went 20-10 and won the ECC's East Division.

The Ivy race will begin the first weekend in January, and it appears the defending champion Tigers will again be in the thick of it. No team is strong enough to run away from the pack this season, and the title will go to the one who plays best on the road.

Fortunately for Princeton, the basketball team, unlike its counterpart in football, often finds a way to win crucial Ivy contests. Credit Carril with an ability to get full measure from his players when it counts most.

TOUGH ROAD AHEAD

For Tiger Hockey Team. Hoping to break a three-game losing streak and improve its 2-5-1 record, the Princeton hockey team will face five opponents in 10 days beginning Thursday.

And only some very good hockey on the Tigers part will keep them from falling to 2-10-1 by the night of January 7. It's a familiar problem for coach Jim Higgins.

The level of competition in the ECAC Division I has always presented a difficult challenge for the Orange and Black, and Higgins' team will be meeting some of the best of it over the next several days. First up is Colgate in the opening round of the Syracuse Tournament Thursday evening.

Colgate's three leading-scoring scorers from last year are pacing the team again this season: senior center Jim Wallace, sophomore wing Gerald Waslen and senior center Steve Smith. So far this season, the Red Raiders are 6-5.

The Tigers, who lost a 5-4 decision last year in Hamilton, have not beaten them since 1980. Colgate holds a 19-14 edge in the series; two games have ended in ties.

Paired in the tournament's other bracket are St.

Steve MacDonald
Third-Leading Scorer

Lawrence and North Dakota. Princeton has beaten the Saints only four times in 26 tries. It has never faced North Dakota, and would be a distinct underdog if the second night's game works out that way. The Fighting Sioux were 21-13-2 last season against strong western opponents.

Following the tournament, Princeton will head back to upper New York state for a return contest with Cornell, Tuesday, January 3. The Big Red captured a 6-4 decision here in mid-December. Later that week Clarkson will be here for a game Thursday, January 5, followed by Boston University on Saturday, January 7. Both games begin at 7:30 p.m.

A Tiger victory in any of these five games would have to be considered an upset, as is almost always the case each season. If they cannot pull one off, they'll be 2-10-1, a poor record, but understandable given the circumstances. Two or three victories in the five games would be a major accomplishment for this young team, especially with defenseman Rob Scheuer out with a dislocated knee.

Leading scorer for Princeton through eight games is Ed Lee with 18 points, double the number of any other player. Steve MacDonald follows with nine, and Bill Brady and Pat Brodeur are tied with eight apiece.

Power play goals present an interesting statistic. Princeton has converted on only five of 43 attempts for an anemic .116 per cent. However, its opponents are only three-tenths of a percentage point better, scoring just five times in 42 tries.

NOTRE DAME TOPS PHS On Mat. 39-24. The Princeton High School wrestling team will start the new year hoping for more success than it had in its first three matches this season.

Last week, the Little Tigers fell to Notre Dame, 38-24, for their third loss without a win. They will resume next Wednesday, January 4, when they entertain Hopewell Valley. The Bulldogs are also winless - having lost their last match, 72-0 - and are struggling with a lack of depth, as are the Little Tigers.

PHS scored half its points in the last two matches against Notre Dame. Brett Van de Bovenkamp raised his record to 2-1 in the 188-pound class with a pin in 64 seconds over the Irish's Mike Walsh. Heavyweight Tamer El-Shakhs followed with a pin over ND heavyweight John McDonald in 1:19 for his second win in three bouts.

The Little Tigers got a third pin in the 126-pound class where junior Gaby Ondetti flattened Alex Verdi with five seconds remaining in the first period. Ondetti thus joined El-Shakhs and Van de Bovenkamp at 2-1 as these three have been the early season standouts for PHS. All three are juniors.

Princeton jumped off to a 6-0 lead when freshman 98-pounder Paul Crystal won by forfeit. This was offset, however, when PHS forfeited the 138 and 145-pound bouts. The rest was all Notre Dame which was wrestling its first match of the season.

The Irish, which posted a 9-6 record last year and expect to be one of the leaders in the chase for the Colonial Valley Conference title with eight returning lettermen, put a hammerlock on the match by winning five matches in a row following Ondetti's pin.

Steve Wetzel of NJ handled PHS veteran Evan Cohn, 7-2, in their 132-pound bout, and after the two forfeits, Notre Dame extended its lead when Al Varrichio edged Princeton's Dominic Tracey, 4-3, at 155 pounds and Pete Nolan decisively PHS 167-pounder Paul Johnson, 13-3.

Earlier in the match, Notre Dame had recovered quickly from its 0-6 start. Jeff Rich tied the match when he pinned Princeton's sophomore 165-pounder Marco Cuccia in 2:21. Tony Keres routed PHS freshman Jeff Robinson, 19-0, for a superior decision at 112 pounds and Eric Wells decked Brad Schwartz of PHS in 1:55 at 119 pounds for 17 points.

HUN IS FAVORITE
In Pennington School Tournament, Off to a fast start, bolstered by three post-graduate students all of whom are averaging in double figures, the Hun School basketball team rates as the team to beat in the Pennington School Tournament which will be played Thursday and Friday. Hun has won the event the last two years in a row.

Last year Hun defeated Wardlaw in the first round and then outscored Pennington, 20-10 in the fourth period to win the championship game, 65-43.

This year Hun's biggest test is likely to come in its opening game when it meets rival Princeton Day School at 6:30 on Thursday. Pennington will oppose Wardlaw at 8.

"PHS has a nice ball club this year," commented Hun coach Bob Hendrickson. One of the things Hendrickson constantly has to caution his team about is overconfidence. Hendrickson insists Hun never takes any opponent — or tournament — lightly.

Still the Raiders have looked impressive so far this season. Their only loss was a one-point setback to undefeated Valley Forge Military Academy in the final seconds in the championship game of the eight-team Peddie Invitational Tournament — a tournament Hun had won the previous two years.

Hun does not have the speed down the court it had last year when it won 22 games, but it does have, as Hendrickson pointed out, some fine shooters. Hendrickson said before the season that he had hoped to compensate for the lack of speed by working very hard.

The hard work and fine shooting have been provided by three newcomers to the team: 6-3 Ted Bransfield, a former player for Penshurst High; 6-4 John Goeke from McCarriston; and 6-2 John McDonough from Christian Brothers Academy. They are joined by Hun's two co-captains, center Pat Marlatt, a 6-6, 228-pound force under the boards, and junior point guard Terry Dearden.

When you draw a lot of new players together it takes time for them to mesh as a team, observed Hendrickson. The blending process hasn't been perfected yet — Hun's play has been uneven — but another Pennington Tournament title would indicate it is further along than maybe even Hendrickson had hoped for.

ONE OF FOUR
PHS Girls in Hopewell Tournament. The Princeton High School girls basketball team will be one of four teams competing in the Hopewell Valley Invitational Basketball Tournament to be played at the HV court in Pennington.

In the opening round this Wednesday evening, PHS will oppose New Hope High of the Bicentennial Athletic League at 6:30, host Hopewell Valley will meet South Hunterdon at 8. The championship and consolation games will be played Thursday night with the title game set for an 8 p.m. start.

The Little Tigers have played only once so far this season, dropping their opening game last week to Lehigh Valley. They will resume their regular season schedule Tuesday afternoon when they host Nottingham in a 7 p.m. contest.

OUR FOUR BEST SELLING OPTIONS.

Contrary to popular belief, Volvo doesn't make a wagon. We make four. To start with, there's the rugged yet refined DL, our most popular (and least expensive) wagon. For amenities above and beyond most other wagons, the GL gives you a choice of either a gas or diesel engine.

And for a really appointed, truly luxurious wagon that can blow an Audi 500S right off the road, try the Volvo Turbo. A test drive will demonstrate the 4-wheel power-assisted disc brakes, rack and pinion steering, tight 32.2 in. turning radius and solid, reliable feel — the same as a Volvo sedan.

That's why, no matter which model you choose, you'll get a superb, well-made wagon. One that holds 76 cu. ft. of cargo. And holds up for years.

Join the Princeton Rep Company For Fun and Dancing New Year's Eve

If you're put off by the high prices charged by some commercial establishments for their New Year's Eve bashes, if you're reluctant to join the traffic madness on the highways, and if you're bored by Dick Clark on television, you might consider the community New Year's Eve party being sponsored by the Princeton Rep Company at the Arts Council of Princeton, 102 Witherspoon Street.

You won't be alone. Outgoing Borough Mayor Robert Cawley will stop by to greet the partygoers at 10 p.m. The new mayor, Barbara Sigmund, will lead the toasts at the stroke of midnight. The rest of the evening, and no doubt much of the morning, will be filled with a multitude of performers and with dancing to the music of the Maple Street 7, led by Westminster Choir College student Dennis Shafer and featuring vocalist Wenonah Brooks.

Other performers include dancers Nancy Arnot and Paul Liberti, poet Ron Kostar, a Princeton resident who teaches comparative literature at Rutgers, and the comedy duo of Mr. and Mrs. Smith. Yes, that's Mr. and Mrs., who are really Ben Chatter of Lawrenceville, a student at Rutgers, and Jim Beckerman, a Princeton High School graduate who now teaches English at Rutgers when he is not cracking jokes. George Orwell's Big Brother will have a cameo role. Carol Kehoe of Princeton Junction, who performed in the Princeton Rep production of My Cup Runneth Over, will serve as emcee. The $15 admission includes membership in the Princeton Rep Company as well as hot and cold hors d'oeuvre, soft drinks, coffee and set-ups. Patrons are responsible for their own alcoholic beverages.

Reservations can be made by calling 924-9559 or at the door, which opens at 9 p.m. The festivities begin at 9:30.

Reorganization

Township swearing-in ceremonies will occur simultaneously, with Mayor Winthrop Pike leading a team of incumbents back into office.

The reception at the firehouse on Harrison Street, just north of Nassau, begins at 1 p.m., and is reputed to be an excellent tonic for pernicious hangovers from the night before.

Bliss

tion from the other side," she said, in reference to his experience in state political circles.

While emphasizing that Mr. Bliss will not continue in his role as county Democratic chairman ("that would be a legitimate concern"), she argued that his service in that role "shouldn't be a disqualifier."

Mr. Schmierer, interviewed after he concluded a two-hour transition meeting with Mr. Bliss, saw matters somewhat differently. "I'm a registered Democrat and I may have sent Barbara $25 or so, but I sent Dick Woodbridge the same. We do everything evenhandedly."

Citing statements from Mrs. Sigmund that she wanted a lawyer who concurred with the Mount Laurel II case advocating low and moderate income housing, Mr. Schmierer noted that he was "a pro-Mount Laurel attorney. I agree with the decision and the direction it sets. But the thrust of the questions during the interview was Collins." The outgoing lawyer indicated that the Sigmund forces were looking for an attorney who would help them place a low and moderate income housing requirement on the Collins plan for the expansion of Palmer Square.

Mr. Schmierer clearly did not meet that criterion. "There's only so much you can do on a site plan that was approved years ago," said Mr. Schmierer. "I'm not sure the municipal land use law allows that—you can't force a lot of that stuff on a developer."

The replacement of the attorney sent salvos flying back and forth between the Mayor-elect and the Council. "She's a fulltime politician, with a tremendous appetite for more power," said Mr. Macgill of Mrs. Sigmund. "My question is who's next? The Borough places a lot of insurance, it has an accounting firm, and a magistrate. I hate to think that Princeton is adopting the standard practice of many New Jersey cities, the notorious policy of the victor getting the spoils."

Mrs. Sigmund insisted that the attorney's job was related to policy and that her change was a reflection of her belief that "we have to make policy at a broader level than just the Borough to keep this town the varied place that it is." She showed some pique of her own when she noted that "when an executive at any level makes an appointment, the legislative body should support the executive unless it has some deep felt difference with the appointee. I did it when I served on Council with Mayor Cawley, and with Arthur Sypek and Bill Mathesius" as a Freeholder. She clearly was less than enthused when three members of Council, including two from her own party, opposed her on the straw vote determining the future attorney.

The most nonpartisan display of the week, ironically, came from the office of the lawyers. Mr. Schmierer reported that he and Mr. Bliss had had a productive meeting. "I transmitted a couple of files to him and we agreed that our firm would continue to handle some pending matters," including the appeal of Gerald Boswell on the air rights decision.

"I'm very happy to cooperate with the Borough," said Mr. Schmierer.

SENIOR PARTY SET
Friday at Firehouse. The Princeton Senior Citizens Club will hold its Christmas and

New Year's party this Friday at 1 p.m. at the Chestnut Street firehouse. Each person is requested to bring a covered dish to serve four people, an exchange gift worth no more than $2, and an ornament for the tree.

HOURS LISTED

At County Ice Rink. The Mercer County Ice Skating Rink is extending its hours for the holiday season.

The rink will be open Wednesday through Friday, December 28-30, from 9 to 4 and 7 to 10. Saturday, December 31, there will be one session from noon to 3, and on New Year's Day the Skating Center will be open from 12:30 to 5:30.

The next session for group skating lessons will begin on January 7. Arrangements for both group and private lessons can be made at the skating rink or by calling 586-9091. For further information on any of the activities at the Rink, call 586-9081.
